The Intention Architect Terms and Conditions

Effective Date: November 1, 2025

Last Updated: November 1, 2025

Welcome to The Intention Architect (“we,” “our,” or “us”).

By accessing our website or engaging our Services, you agree to these Terms and Conditions.

1. Scope of Services

The Intention Architect provides travel and retreat planning, digital resources, and personalized consulting designed to support intentional living and transformative experiences.

We are not a travel agency or vendor — we facilitate and support your arrangements but do not operate flights, hotels, or retreat facilities.

2. Third-Party Vendors

When we assist with travel or retreat arrangements, all bookings are made directly with third-party vendors (such as airlines, hotels, or retreat providers).

Each vendor’s own terms, conditions, and cancellation policies apply. Any refunds, changes, or disputes must be addressed directly with those vendors.

3. Fees and Payments

All service fees are due in full at the time of booking or service confirmation.

Work begins once payment is received.

Once a booking, itinerary, or digital product has been confirmed or delivered, the service is considered rendered and non-refundable.

Vendor payments are made directly to the respective provider, following their payment and refund terms.

Prices are subject to change prior to payment confirmation. Once paid, the rate is locked for that specific engagement.

4. Limitation of Liability

Calgary, Alberta Canada
inquiry@TheIntentionArchitect.com

The Intention Architect is not liable for any loss, damage, delay, or expense arising from vendor actions, cancellations, weather conditions, or circumstances beyond our control. Participation in travel, retreats, or events is at your own discretion and risk.

5. Intellectual Property

All digital tools, templates, frameworks, and content provided by The Intention Architect remain our intellectual property.

You may not reproduce, distribute, or repurpose these materials without written consent.

6. Governing Law

These Terms are governed by the laws of the Province of Alberta, Canada, and any disputes shall be resolved in the courts of Calgary, Alberta.
